

NUT POLICY

At Camp Kidstown, we are aware that many camp participants have food and nut allergies. We are committed to providing a safe environment that is inclusive for all children and youth, which is why our programs are nut aware. We do not describe our programs as being nut free as we cannot guarantee that other camp participants have brought nuts or traces of nuts into our campus.

To ensure campers safety:

- Camp KidsTown asks that parents and caregivers exercise care when preparing their child(ren)'s lunches and snacks and to carefully check labels to avoid sending products that contain nuts or traces of nuts.
- Camp KidsTown has a no sharing policy, which means that campers are strongly discouraged from sharing or trading snacks and lunches with other campers, volunteers, or staff.
- Camp Kidstown staff members are trained in Standard First Aid and CPR-C and are trained to recognize the symptoms of an allergic reaction, and if necessary, administer EpiPens.

Should you have any questions or concerns, or your child has food allergies and you wish to speak with us, please contact us at info@campkidstown.com or call 905.462.5534